

Metropolitan energy policies in the Turkish cities

Preliminary Program

A seminar organized by the Institut français d'études anatoliennes, Galatasaray University and Environnement Ville Société, CNRS-Université de Lyon

Conveners : Eric Verdeil (EVS CNRS-Lyon University) – Jean-François Pérouse (Toulouse-II University/Galatasaray U.)

Funded by the Region Rhône Alpes (Coopera 2012) and supported by LATTs (ENPC-Paris Est University)

Place : Institut français d'études anatoliennes - Palais de France - Nur-i Ziya Sokak, 10 P.K.54 - TR-34433 - Beyoğlu - Istanbul

Date : 29th May 2012, 9 :30 – 17:00. A field visit is planned the 30th of May.

Scientific presentation: <http://calenda.revues.org/nouvelle23382.html>

Language : the speakers will speak in English or, at least, provide an English summary of their papers
The seminar is open to all. Please confirm your presence to the organizers.

9:30

Dr. Nora Seni, director of IFEA : Welcome Adress – mot de bienvenue (à confirmer)

Dr. Eric Verdeil, CNRS, EVS, Lyon University : Introduction : Metropolitan energy policies as an emerging research question

Dr. Dominique Lorrain, CNRS, ENPC Paris Est University, Chaire Ville, Shanghai and its infrastructure : a learning process

11:15 Coffee Break

11:45

Dr. Jean-François Pérouse, Toulouse-II University/Galatasaray U. : The invention of a new energy governance in Turkish Cities : constraints, stakeholders and initiatives.

12:45-14:30 Break

Lunch at IFEA is offered to all attendees

14:30

Elvan Arik, Institut d'urbanisme, Lyon University : Energy policies and access to networked infrastructure in Istanbul. The case of naturel gas.

Dr. Murat Güvenç, Center of Urban research, Şehir Univerisity : Intrametropolitan Mobilty and Population Decentralization in Istanbul: an Overview on Recent Trends

Dr. Benoît Fliche, CNRS-IFEA : Domestic heating practices and energy transition in Turkish cities

16:45

Final discussion

Rhône-Alpes Région

Galatasaray Üniversitesi